Time is money!

Research proves that getting help from qualified career experts will shorten your job search. A great resume will reduce your search time, and reducing your search time means significant extra money in your pocket.

We often find that just the act of contacting a career consultant to create a resume tends to “kick start” the process and get things moving. When you work together with a professional, you’ll get great advice on getting those key interviews and succeeding in your chosen career path.

You’ll find that the process drives you along and speeds you into a job sooner than trying to achieve it alone. Here are some real examples of what it might cost you to wait:

Annual Salary	Employed 1 Week Sooner	Employed 4 Weeks Sooner	Employed 10 Weeks Sooner
$26,000	$500	$2,000	$5,000
$39,000	$750	$3,000	$7,500
$52,000	$1,000	$4,000	$10,000
$78,000	$1,500	$6,000	$15,000
$104,000	$2,000	$8,000	$20,000
$130,000	$2,500	$10,000	$25,000
$156,000	$3,000	$12,000	$30,000

Talk about a great return on investment!

Consider the experience of four Resume Hut clients:

John sent out almost 100 resumes with zero response. He was depressed and wondering what to do next. Within less than a month of first coming into our offices, he landed a job paying $42,000 per year – he was chosen from 130 applicants.

Total time unemployed = 1 year

Actual cost of not getting professional help sooner = $42,000

Kevin

Kevin sent out over 80 resumes with zero response. Within 2 weeks of sending his new resume created by Resume Hut, Kevin was invited to 5 interviews, and landed a dream job paying $120,000 per year.

Total time unemployed = 6 months

Actual cost of not getting professional help sooner = $60,000

Connie

Connie was sending out resume after resume. She knew she was underemployed and could handle much more responsibility but her resume was not working. She contacted the Resume Hut for a free review of her resume, and decided to have us rebuild it. 4 days later - she sent out 5 new resumes and within two weeks had received 4 requests for interviews. A week later she chose a job which paid better, offered her more opportunities for growth, and was 20 minutes closer to home.

Total time looking for work prior to obtaining a Resume Hut Resume = 4 months

Total time between sending out the new resume and obtaining a new job = 1 month

Likelihood of obtaining a better job with old resume within 6 months = not likely

Positive impact on salary - $600 / month plus $ 150 / month on travel = $750

Cost of not getting professional help - between $3000 and $7500
